MISCELLANEOUS READING.

A RAILWAY ROMANCE. A singular affair occurred on the Wear Valley (Durham) Road the other day. A gentleman from Burmingham found himself seated in a first-class carriage, his vis-a-vis, and the only other passenger in that compartment of the carriage, being a blooming lady, answering to the alliterative description of "fat, fair and forty." The train bad scarcely moved a hundred yards from the 2,000 station before the lady suddenly leaped from 750 her seat and exclaimed to the other passen-10,000 114 lo'st. 3 No. do. 500 ger, "How dare you sir? What do you mean?" The gentleman, astonished, replied that he "did not understand her; he Certificates of packag's, 26 whole tickets $150 00 | had done nothing to harm her." Again and 75 00 again she sprung from her seat in apparent 37 50 terror and rage, and declared with vehemence that her neighbor was a "villain, and she would have him taken into custody at the next station." The gentleman protest. his innocence, and asked what he had done; but the eccentric lady skill kept on leaping from her seat, raving against his treatment, till the gentleman decided that she was mad, and resolved on the arrival of the train at the next station, to give her into custody. As her eccentricity did not abate, nor her rage either, he, on the arrival of the train at one of the stations, was about to carry his resolution into action, when she suddenly Certificates of packag's 25 whole tickets,$260 00 sprang to the door and screamed out 130 00 "Guard!" at the top of her voice, and pres-65 00 ently collected not only the guard, but a 32 50 crowd of people around her. She then com-ORDERS for Tickets and Shares and Cer- menced her accusation in words both loud tificates of Packages in the above Splendid Lot- and deep, protesting that the gentleman had man, horrified at the charge, protesting his perfect innocence. At this juncture, when matters looked serious for the gentleman, the guard happened to recollect that he had placed a barket under the seat of the carriage containing a live goose, and pulling it out, PORT GAINES ACADEMY LOTTERY. the mystery was explained, the bird being —CLASS 14, to be drawn in the City of the criminal, and having caused the lady's Atlanta, Ga., April 24th, 1856, when Prizes fears and the gentleman's apprehensions.-The explanation was received with perfect humor and satisfaction by the parties concerned, and the train renewed its journey amid the convulsive laughter and applause of the
